

Save on Energy Bills and Qualify for a Federal Tax Credit

Did you know that certain window treatments may qualify for federal energy efficiency tax credits—up to $1,200 in annual savings? These qualifying shades and blinds are designed not only to enhance your home's style and comfort but also to help regulate indoor temperature, reduce energy usage, and potentially put money back in your pocket at tax time. To find out which products qualify and how you can take advantage of this limited-time incentive, speak with your local design consultant. We'll walk you through energy-efficient options during your free in-home consultation and help you make an informed choice that's both beautiful and smart.